

More than just foam...

FOAMPARTNER
Embedded in experience

Success begins with mutual ideas and development.

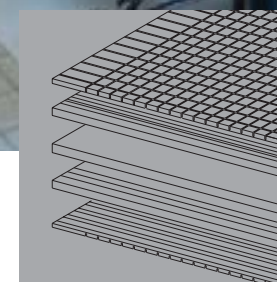

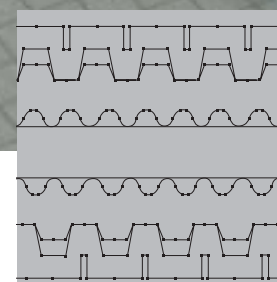

Your goal is success – an aim that binds us and which needs a cooperative creation of values.

To achieve this, we focus our joint innovative resources on your demand for a first-class PUR and natural latex mattress. Base your visions on experience!

Whether it is a complete or part project, we will support you in the putting together of your new mattress generation – together, step-by-step: from the initial idea and the first sketches, to the prototype and market maturity.

Our mattress and cushion core creations combine new techniques in PUR and latex technology with the latest medical findings.

Choice of material, comfort, design and functionality of the core construction, all combine to make a sophisticated comfort of the highest degree.

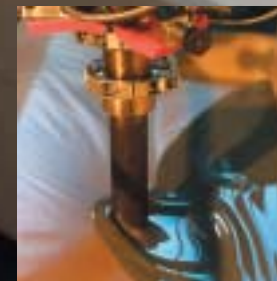

We endeavour to find the best possible solutions for choice of material, functionality, design, latex-form engineering and profitability, all of which make a distinctive influence over your competitors.

Market leadership through high quality materials and intelligent core design.

We offer you the best of both worlds – PUR and natural latex core are produced in our own factory, which is an advantage that speaks for itself. By careful selection of raw materials, detailed process control, and thanks to an up-to-date modern manufacturing method, we are able to offer products with manifold, outstanding characteristics. Our claim to superior quality standards relates to the strict ecological requirements on both raw materials and the end product. The harmony of the refined technology systems allows the development of tailored products with excellent functionality and long life. This guarantee is based on rigorous controls at each development stage and is confirmed by independent test institutes.

The combination of technology and know-how make possible the creation of attractive mattress and cushion cores from our wide range assortment of HR (High Resilience), standard polyether foams, visco-elastic polymers, as well as moulded natural latex – for the sleep of your dreams.

Latex – a gift of nature, which is our speciality. Guaranteed free from chemical components, our latex cores are made of pure “Hevea Brasiliensis” rubber tree sap, for an elasticity which is unequalled when compared to synthetic latex. The natural properties of pure latex adapt optimally to body shape and movements, relaxing the spine and muscles for a deep and healthy sleep. Our comprehensive know-how, form design and first-class cores make sure that your product will be a complete success.

The measure of distinction for us is, however, your appreciation of our products, for which we strive to go well beyond the normal limits, to give you and your customers full satisfaction.

Embedded in experience

Perfection begins and ends in detail.

Practice makes perfect – this is how we have grown through experience. Our leadership today is based on many years of intensive research in the subject of comfort and healthy sleep. From this source, we have gathered the knowledge for sophisticated mattress design, developed in teamwork with you, to meet your customer needs. We create mattress and cushion cores which combine functional, ergonomic design and elegance.

Your new mattress will be an “eye-catcher” and offers a convincing argumentation for customer support.

Our quality politics are a firm part of our company's philosophy and go much further than end-product demands - they also cover ergonomic comfort and healthy sleep. In our Research and Development centre, all of our products are thoroughly tested with modern instruments in order to obtain optimal anatomical sleep, including the most critical pressure points. You and your customers can count on perfect support!

Use our know-how for decisive marketing advantages. With our name, we vouch for your success and for our goal: FoamPartner – that's us!

FOAMPARTNER
Embedded in experience

With discretion for maximum customer benefit.

What began more than 50 years ago as a sponge trading business, has been on a rising trend since entering into the production and finishing of foam. As a leading specialist and partner for polyurethane and natural latex foam products of first-class quality, we specialise in meeting your exacting demands. We are proud that with our creations, we can keep you on the road to success. We bring our innovative ideas into action, so that the world wakes up each morning totally refreshed – thanks to your brand name.

Ongoing investments in R & D characterise the innovative strategy of our company. Our know-how is corroborated by certification to ISO 9001 and independent testing institutes. All developments of new mattress cores undergo stringent internal test procedures. Such constructions must correspond to the highest requirements, which go well beyond the normal market quality standards. The choice of an outstanding product of durable quality, offers you exactly the security which convinces your customers!

FOAMPARTNER

Fritz Nauer AG

Oberwolfhauserstrasse

CH-8633 Wolfhausen

Phone +41 (0)55 253 63 63

Fax +41 (0)55 253 63 74

Internet www.foampartner.com