Foam Solutions Are Our World

Best in Foam – FoamPartner is more than justified in choosing this phrase as its motto, as the company is one of the world’s leading manufacturers and converter of first-class specialty foam solutions. FoamPartner’s product range comprises over 200 polyurethane foams for automobile, industrial, and comfort applications.

The company’s success story started in Switzerland in 1937. Innovator and pioneer Fritz Nauer started initially with the trading of natural sponges, but soon shifted his focus to synthetic materials. In doing so, he laid the cornerstone for the global network of the FoamPartner Group. The company now has more than 1,100 employees at 14 locations in the three most important economic regions (Europe, the Americas, and Asia-Pacific). True to its motto, the FoamPartner Group develops best-in-class specialty foam solutions at a total of five Global Business Units.

Innovative Foam Solutions for Comfortable Sleep

With a comprehensive all-in-one service, FoamPartner helps its customers turn their creative ideas into a reality – from the initial stages all the way to marketing and logistic concepts. Living & Care specializes in the development, manufacturing, processing, and marketing of comfort foam solutions – both for private and medical applications. As a professional partner for renowned mattress and pillow manufacturers, Living & Care sets new standards for modern sleeping comfort with its tailor-made core constructions and innovative system solutions. Upon request, it can also create finished products and add customer-specific branding and additional information e.g. product and care instructions. If necessary, Living & Care also offers marketing support and logistics solutions. This means that customers can select the products to suit their needs and focus on their core competences.

The premium comfort foams used in Living & Care are developed and produced in the bedding competence centers in Wolfhausen, Switzerland, and Duderstadt, Germany. Excellent quality and a long lifespan for all sleep products are guaranteed. One of FoamPartner’s latest coups is the revolutionary EvoPoreVHRC. This new product on the market offers the ultimate box-spring feeling without metal springs – for exceptional royal sleeping comfort.

A further demonstration of the innovative spirit and cutting-edge thinking and acting in Living & Care is the brand new, forward looking sleeping solution Tecciō.science. Tecciō.science is a combination of an advanced foam with hardware and software that influences sleep through individually selectable hardness changes. It is controlled via an app. The hardness changes very gently and continually, so that the consumer is not woken up – true to the motto “feel the difference, but not the change.”
